Farmed, roasted, whole, and seasoned edible crickets and mealworms.

The products are seasoned and manually packed in Finland.

Based on extensive feedback from around the world, we can boldly state that we have the best tasting edible insect products and the most beautiful packages on the market!

Price

Order an updated wholesale price list with volume discounts from us!

Serving Suggestion

Party Bugs is for everybody and every party. Finely designed Party Bugs products fit all parties ranging from bars, restaurants, night clubs to movies, festivals, sports events, and home parties.

Tastes

Already more than a dozen different tastes.

Certificates

Edible insect producers are tiny, and certificates like IFS or BSI certificates are still rare. However, all the crickets and mealworms we present in this catalog come from the EU, which strictly regulates their breeding and processing. Only insects bred for human consumption are allowed as food within the EU, and local Food Safety Authorities must control their breeding and processing.

Availability

Production-to-order until demand stabilizes. Small quantities of products may be stocked.

Marketing Arguments

Party Bugs are the healthier, new generation of party snacks with the following success factors:

1. the best recipes applied to the highest quality insects
2. trendy and sustainable fun with friends
3. a premium product for an affordable price

Eating healthier and saving the planet is a bonus!

It is healthy to eat insects!

- Roasted crickets contain 60–70% and mealworms 45–60% protein.
- Lots of zinc, iron, magnesium, and B12 vitamin
- Omega fatty acid composition like in fish
- Chitin as a fiber reduces gastrointestinal inflammation.

Insect production is environmentally friendly!

Producing a kilo of beef requires

- 12 times more feed,
- 100 times more space and
- 22,000 times more water

than producing a kilogram of insects.

In addition, the production of a kilogram of beef causes 50 times more methane emissions than producing a kilogram of edible insects!

Shelf Life

- 8 – 15 months from the production day.

Languages of Product Descriptions on Packages

- 1–2 printed languages possible.
- We can add product information in 1–2 languages for small orders by using stickers on the sides.

What Makes Party Bugs Unique?

- Party Bugs' unique seasoning method ensures that our insect snacks are the most delicious on the market.
 - Most competitors buy flavored insects from the same breeders and sell the same products under different brands.
- The most luxurious insect snack packages make Party Bugs stand out on supermarket shelves.
 - Most competitors use doypacks.
- "Let's party and enjoy life!" attitude.
 - Vs. "You will die, and the world will go down faster if you don't eat insects."
 - Vs. Eat healthy and sustainably produced insects or you will die younger and the world will go down faster.

Marketing Arguments

Party Bugs are the healthier, new generation of party snack with the following success factors:

- the best flavors applied to the highest quality insects
- trendy and sustainable fun with friends

A premium product for an affordable price.

*Eating healthier and saving the planet
is just a bonus!*

Marketing Arguments

It is healthy to eat insects!

- Roasted insects contain 50 –70% protein.
- Lots of zinc, iron, magnesium and B12 vitamin
- Omega fatty acid composition like in fish
- Not deep fried but roasted
- Chitin as a fiber reduces gastrointestinal inflammation.

Marketing Arguments

Insect production is environmentally friendly!

You need

- 12 times more feed
- 100 times more space
- 22,000 times more water

to produce one kilogram of beef than to produce one kilogram of insects.

Producing a kilogram of beef also causes 50 times more methane emissions than producing a kilogram of edible insects!

Product Labels

- 3 sides to attach country specific labels
- EU countries
 - EU style labels in 1, 2, or 3 languages
- US
 - FDA compliant labeling
- Canada
 - Labels in English and French in the Canadian style

Price vs. Quality

We produce following the EU regulations, which are the world's strictest.

1. All insects we sell as food are reared for human consumption.
2. The local Food Safety Authority controls insects and the production process afterward.
3. We can trace the origins of all ingredients and packaging materials in every product we produce.
4. All packaging materials are food grade.
5. The products are free from chemical or biological contaminations.

Following the world's strictest regulations guarantees that European insect products are safe to eat, which is only sometimes true for products from less regulated countries.

Wholesale Orders

White-Label Production

Why are Party Bugs the world's most delicious edible insect snacks for your white-label products?

Party Bugs are the most delicious whole, seasoned insects on the market because our edible insects come from the best breeders in the EU, we season our insects ourselves, and our seasoning method is unique.

In comparison, many of our competitors currently buy low-cost, low-quality East Asian crickets imported and (cheaply) flavored by just one company, making all their products taste the same.

How does customization work?

Large minimum order batches usually only apply to printing work, but the actual products can be produced and invoiced in smaller order batches. We understand the importance of cash flow in your business, so we only need payment in advance for customized packaging or when we have to order packaging or product information labels a lot in advance. Except for the customization cost, you only pay for the products you order when you need them, and we produce them for you. We print the production batch and shelf life information on separate labels, which we create only in connection with production.

For example, we may have to order at least 2,000 cardboard packaging at once for your product with your company's brand look and logo for 400 euros, in which case one cardboard packaging customized for you costs 20 cents each. In that case, we require only 400 euros for the down payment. After that, you can order products from us in batches of, for example, 200 products, in which case we will deduct the cost of customization, i.e., the price of the packages you have already paid, from the final products.

We can also customize recipes, which we can usually do without a down payment. If the recipe consists of ordinary ingredients from a local wholesaler, which we can buy in small quantities, we can quickly produce small production batches for you. For example, you could order a smallish batch of 200 to 400 products at a time, and we can conveniently manufacture a fresh batch of your tailored products as we produce our other products. As we produce regularly, we can easily add a single product to the production plan when production is running.

We can also design unique recipes for you!

Using a customized recipe requires an advance payment only if we have to order expensive raw ingredients for a product customized just for you. Such a raw material could be, for example, a 25-kilogram sack of aroma powder costing 1,500 euros.

Quality Certificates

The production of Party Bugs products follows the principles of quality certificates. Still, we need to increase our production volume to start the application and audition process for official quality certificates, like IFS or BSE.

However, only insects bred for human consumption are allowed as food within the EU, and local Food Safety Authorities must control their breeding and processing. By the end of 2023, only food insects with EU Commission-approved breeding licenses will be allowed within the EU.
